One task, one place, one way to know you are done.

Suggested three of the six lesson labels below. Choose any three.

Line drawing: a door, a window and a chair. Orientation only — the drawing states no word and no reading; the lesson words are the content.

Where and when

At home, on three objects you pass every day.

Do this

1. Write one lesson word on a small label and stick it on the object.
2. Do this for three objects from the lesson list.
3. When you pass a label for the next two days, say the word aloud.

> YOU ARE DONE WHEN
>
> Three objects carry the lesson's word, and you said each word aloud when you passed it on two days.

About 8 minutes. No photo, no recording, no location, no score. Ask for the phrase, not a grade.

Done when: ☐ Day 1 ☐ Day 2 Date _____

Completion is self reported and stays in your notebook. It is not a pass, a score or evidence of mastery.
